15. Multidisciplinary / interdisciplinary

The National Education Policy's vision is to deliver high-quality instruction that satisfies international standards, with diversity in all curricula and pedagogy and technological advancements in the teaching-learning process. The institution currently depends on its affiliated university for a cutting-edge and adaptable curriculum. The university has taken steps in the direction of NEP and offers community service projects, two-month internships, six-month internships, courses on professional ethics, ethics in the workplace, environmental education, and numerous programs for developing life skills. The goal of the project work is to give participants hands-on experience, community involvement, professional experience, fieldwork, and environmental education. The rules of the affiliated university state that depending on the demands of each program, the project work has an equal number of credits to the theory course. Visits to companies, NGOs, national or state institutions, and industries are required for both the beginning and end of the project. A report is another requirement. Interdisciplinary research is a major component of many of these projects. While not credit-based, the institution currently encourages students to engage in interdisciplinary project-based learning.

16.Academic bank of credits (ABC):

The affiliated university has been working diligently to become registered with the Academic Bank of Credits (ABC). According to the directives of the Andhra Pradesh State Council of Higher Education (APSCHE), which aims to assist students in enriching their academic pursuits and academic welfare, the university is trying to implement ABC. The university has been incorporating novel concepts and ideas into its curricula and syllabuses while also adapting to the current environment.

17.Skill development:

By inviting resource people from reputable institutions, a good number of workshops, guest lectures, and conferences were organised to improve the students' skills. Various add-on programs and certificate courses on IT skills, analytical chemistry, digital marketing, statistical methods and applications, solar energy and applications, e-commerce and digital marketing, export and import documentation, tally, networking, and digital electronics are being offered to encourage the development of students' skill sets and their readiness for employment. The institution has a Memorandum of Agreement with the Andhra Pradesh State Skills Development Corporation (APSSDC) to provide skill training for job placements, education in communication skills, and computer education. The college's Jawahar Knowledge Centre regularly hosts job fairs and hosts a large number of training programs.

18.Appropriate integration of Indian Knowledge system (teaching in Indian Language, culture, using online course)

The institute commemorates all significant occasions related to the promotion of Telugu language, literature, and culture in order to advance the regional tongue. Telugu is one of the second languages that are taught in all undergraduate programs. Due to the proximity of Tamil Nadu to our college, some of the students have Tamil as their mother tongue, but they are also familiar with Telugu. Hindi is another second language that is offered in our college in addition to Telugu. The college employs a Hindi lecturer. As a result, the college campus has a mix of languages. The affiliated university started and is continuing to teach the Indian Knowledge System in the curriculum.

19.Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):Focus on Outcome based education (OBE):

In accordance with the NEP, the Andhra Pradesh State Council of Higher Education (APSCHE) and the university to which it is affiliated provide special training programs on outcome-based education. The affiliated university serves as the institute's primary supervisor. All university programmes are outcome-based. The board of studies for every discipline has been told to switch to outcome-based instruction. Thus, specific goals were considered when designing each course. Students are informed of these outcomes at the beginning of the course's instruction. According to internal and external evaluation, sample test questions and evaluation processes are developed. Nearly all of the faculty and staff are deputed by the college to complete the IGNOU NEP programme, which teaches participants how to apply the NEP in everyday practise.

20.Distance education/online education:

The pandemic has forced institutions to have a well-defined online education strategy. Through the use of online platforms, our institution has taken advantage of the opportunity and potential of its infrastructure and faculty. Students had access to online internships with durations of two and six months. Because MOOCs have become a platform for open and distance learning and because the SWAYAM platform offers MOOCs, our institution has made a pitch for online courses through it. The organisation uses Google Forms and other tools, as well as online portals, seminars, games, and presentations. Students can communicate and collaborate with one another using Google Classroom. The teacher provides them with immediate feedback, allowing for personalised instruction. Two-way audio and video interfaces will enable face-to-face communication. Online testing and assessment are very challenging. New tools will be added to better address current and upcoming challenges, even though the current digital platforms are heavily utilised. For the benefit of students in and around Sullurpet, our college has already established IGNOU. In addition to promoting, coordinating, and establishing standards for open learning and distance education systems, IGNOU will use distance learning to broaden access and equity to higher education.

CURRICULAR ASPECTS

1.1 - Curricular Planning and Implementation

1.1.1 - The Institution ensures effective curriculum delivery through a well planned and documented process

The college staff council, IQAC, constructs an institutional academic calendar based on the calendars of the affiliating university and the Andhra Pradesh State Council of Higher Education at the start of each academic year (APSCHE). Academic plans for syllabus coverage and other relevant activities are submitted by all teaching departments and posted on the college notice board and website. Faculty members keep a teaching diary, a curricular plan, teaching notes, and an activity log to keep track of their daily teaching activities. Faculty members use forms issued by the Commissioner of Collegiate Education to record all teaching activities. Workshops, seminars, special lectures, group discussions, quizzes, assignments, educational tours, field trips, and industrial visits are all available to all students. Regular meetings of the staff council, the IQAC, alumni groups, and parent-teacher groups are held to discuss teaching and learning progress. The department's teachers act as mentors to their mentees, communicating with them to obtain a better grasp of their issues.

SVSSC Degree College also offers a variety of certificate and add on courses to assist students in advancing their career opportunities. Due to the college's accreditation by the International Organization for Standardization for the previous two academic years (ISO 9001:2015), external auditors confirm that the data is accurate.

1.1.2 - The institution adheres to the academic calendar including for the conduct of Continuous Internal Evaluation (CIE)

The college staff council and IQAC design an institutional academic calendar based on the calendars of the affiliated universities at the start of each academic year. With its importance, the test becomes the main focus of the semester's activities. The Examination Committee creates the exam schedule while taking the suggested minimum number of working days into consideration. The IQAC develops a calendar after the examination dates are released, making it easy to cover the subject ahead of time. The academic calendar lists the dates for internal written tests, practicals, viva-voces, and journal assessment examinations. All students must complete two internal examinations and one pre-final examination in addition to regular class testing. The findings of each evaluation are analysed, and slow, moderate, and advanced students are selected. Those who require further assistance are offered remedial lectures. As a result, the university adheres to the academic schedule, which includes CIE. Field trips, research tours, and industrial visits are among the activities on the agenda. To help students increase their employability, the college provides add-on and certificate courses. Students are encouraged to participate in internship programs and real-world initiatives.

1.3 - Curriculum Enrichment

1.3.1 - Institution integrates crosscutting issues relevant to Professional Ethics, Gender, Human Values, Environment and Sustainability into the Curriculum

The cross-cutting issues help students' holistic development by instilling a positive attitude towards life, work, and recreation. We can coexist peacefully with the rest of the world because of human principles. To avoid conflicts that impede students' comprehension of subject knowledge and overall development, cross-cutting issues must be given due importance and addressed properly while carrying out the curriculum. The college emphasises and incorporates a wide range of human values into the curriculum, meeting the educational and financial needs of the underprivileged. The forest department and the college's Echo Club organised several programs in and around the college to enhance environmental awareness among both students and the general public. The International Organisation for Standardisation (ISO 14001-2015) certified the college. Gender sensitization occurs through co-curricular activities such as debates, elocutions, poster presentations, and so on. The Women's Empowerment Cell is very active in addressing gender issues and female students' well-being. Lawyers, judges, doctors, and police officers participate in a large number of awareness programmes on gender discrimination, domestic violence, eve teasing, women's health and hygiene, women's rights, women's property rights, family values, and other topics. The forest department and the college's Echo Club organised several programmes to enhance environmental awareness among both students and the general public.

2.2 - Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 - The institution assesses the learning levels of the students and organizes special Programmes for advanced learners and slow learners

The institution's teaching and learning process aids both advanced and slow learners in accomplishing their objectives. A variety of measurements are used to classify students and support them in learning. New students receive orientation and induction at the beginning of each academic year. Academic standards and regulations, library services, and a variety of co-curricular and extracurricular activities are all taught to help pupils develop holistically. Bridge courses are also offered by the English, Mathematics, and Commerce departments to assist students. The mentoring and tutoring systems provided continual help to students. Each student receives individual attention in all aspects of their academic, social, and personal lives. In order to develop their hidden skills, students are encouraged to participate in co-curricular and extracurricular activities sponsored by the institution as well as other institutions in and around the city. Remedial classes are given to students who have been identified as needing to improve their learning skills. Advanced students are encouraged to enrol in extra-credit courses that will guide them through the process of conducting research in a field of their choice.

2.3 - Teaching- Learning Process

2.3.1 - Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences

In addition to traditional teaching methods, SVSSC Government Degree College in Sullurpet supports experiential learning, participatory learning, and problem solving methodologies, as well as innovative pedagogical methods of teaching, to improve students' learning experiences. The college supports IT-enabled teaching. Virtual teaching was initiated and has proven to be successful in providing students with the opportunity to watch and hear expert lectures on a variety of topics. Experiential Learning: Experiential learning enhances students' learning. These include practical experience. Internships, study projects, field trips, Earn We Learn, and service-learning projects all help promote this type of learning at the institution. Experiential learning aided students in aquaculture, dairy science, animal husbandry, solar energy, plant nurseries, soil testing, and detergent manufacturing, among other fields. Participatory Learning: Students are actively involved and motivated to participate in community service to educate the public on topics such as COVID-19 vaccination, cashless transactions, ODF, peace, various government schemes, literacy programs, Aids, and consumerism. This promotes students' real-time, need-based learning experiences on current issues. Project-Based Learning: Academic projects, field trips, and field surveys are incorporated into the curriculum and assessment. Summer projects are also promoted among advanced students.

2.3.2 - Teachers use ICT enabled tools for effective teaching-learning process. Write description in maximum of 200 words

At SVSSC Government Degree College, information and communication technology have become integral parts of the teaching, learning, and assessment processes. The college offers a Wi-Fi-enabled campus as well as digital and virtual classrooms, which allow teachers and students to stay connected to the internet while learning and teaching current knowledge. Every semester, faculty development programs teach teachers how to successfully use ICT technologies in the classroom. Teachers use Google Classroom, email, college portals, blogs, WhatsApp, and other platforms to distribute reading materials, short notes, and e-books. Teachers can keep a complete profile of their students using the Management Information System (MIS), which includes personal and academic information, attendance, CIA, marks, and fee payment information. MIS is used to collect feedback from students on the instructional approaches used by faculty members each semester. The university hosts webinars for students to engage in productive dialogue with specialists. A digital collection of journals is available to students. Students received lessons on selected topics from subject specialists at reputable institutions through NPTEL, Spoken Tutorial, and SWAYAM. The institution typically uses Google Forms to conduct assessments, feedback, and reviews, as well as gather information on any areas of concern.

2.5 - Evaluation Process and Reforms

2.5.1 - Mechanism of internal assessment is transparent and robust in terms of frequency and mode. Write description within 200 words.

Students are graded on their performance on internal examinations, pre-final examinations, practical examinations, and other academically competitive examinations by each department. At the beginning of the academic year, the respective departments informed all students about the evaluation methodologies. They collect student feedback and analyse it before submitting recommendations. Appropriate recommendations as well as analysed reports were sent to the principal and other faculty members for review and adjustment. Within 7 to 10 days, the results of all internal examinations administered by the college are posted on notice boards. The students were given the value-added response scripts by their individual teaching staff. If any errors are found, the examiner will correct them before submitting the award list to the institution. Internal tests will be given on a regular basis during the academic year to provide appropriate practice and alert students to examination mistakes. If the examination questions are beyond the pupils' comprehension, the concerned teacher thoroughly addresses them. Faculty members also review students' attendance, involvement in numerous competitions held both inside and outside the college, co-curricular sports and games, and extension activities. Suitable students are inspired and encouraged to achieve based on the evaluation findings.

2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, time- bound and efficient

The college has an excellent procedure in place for dealing with exam-related issues from students. Any and all examination complaints that students may have are handled by the examination committee. The examiner hands out corrected answer scripts to the students and addresses any questions they may have. When total errors are discovered, the examiner immediately corrects the posting. Any inconsistency in the publication of practical examination marks must be addressed immediately by the subject examiner. If an examiner makes many errors in evaluation, the committee informs the principal so that appropriate suggestions and counselling can be given. Students who are dissatisfied with their subject results should contact the Examination Grievance Cell. Only re-totaling, re-evaluation, and personal verification of grades are permitted under university norms. Within the prescribed time, the examination committee provides all such students' data to the university. Wherever necessary, the applicant must provide the relevant documents or testimonies to the controller of examinations directly or through their parents in order for the problem to be processed as promptly as feasible. The Coordinator of Examinations maintains constant contact with university officials to ensure that everything goes well.

2.6 - Student Performance and Learning Outcomes

2.6.1 - Teachers and students are aware of the stated Programme and course outcomes of the Programmes offered by the institution.

Outcome-based education is concerned with what a student receives after completing a course. Programme-Specific Outcomes, Programme Outcomes, and Course Outcomes are all elevated to some degree in outcome-based education. Students are told of the program's PEOs and POs during the department-level orientation at the start of the program. PSOs, POs, and COs all detail what students should be able to accomplish or comprehend at the end of the course. These are produced through a thorough engagement process with stakeholders, and the graduation attribute serves as the basis for them. Outcome-based education is concerned with what a student receives after completing a course. Course outcomes are concise statements that outline the critical and long-term discipline knowledge and skills that students should possess by the completion of the course. Program results, program-specific outcomes, and course outcomes can be found on the college website, in the library, and on notice boards. The POs were presented to the faculty at Academic Staff Council and IQAC sessions. Experts are brought in to stimulate students and keep them focused on their goals at the college. The college's vision and objectives are realised as a result of the use of OBE in the classroom.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

The college provides a number of programs with well-defined outcomes. PEOs (Programme Educational Objectives), POs (Program Outcomes), and COs (Course Outcomes) are all linked. The efficiency of this link is confirmed by a systematic procedure for collecting and assessing data on program and course outcomes. The CO and PO matrices are mapped to calculate the level of achievement of program outcomes. The technique for determining CO achievement, known as course outcomes, is detailed in each course's syllabus. Direct and indirect methods are used to assess course outcomes. The marks obtained by students in assignments, activities, seminars, and CIA tests are used to calculate courseresults using the direct method for the batch accepted in 2019. The course teachers learn about the course completion goals. For internal, model, and end-of-semester exams, questions are set at the appropriate Bloom's levels. In the CIA Test I, Model, and End-of-Semester Test, COs and Bloom's level are mentioned for each question. The student's marks for each question in the assessment are kept track of. The recorded data will be analysed to determine each student's degree of achievement. The degrees of achievement of students are added together to determine the overall percentage of achievement.

3.3 - Extension Activities

3.3.1 - Extension activities are carried out in the neighborhood community, sensitizing students to social issues, for their holistic development, and impact thereof during the year

SVSSC Government Degree College encourages students to participate in community extension activities to increase their awareness of social concerns and to aid their holistic development. Students can put what they've learnt in class into practice at the institution. The NSS and Red Ribbon Club at the college strive to build a feeling of community among students through a variety of community-oriented programs and activities that focus on students' development within the community and how they can apply their knowledge to solve community problems. Extension programmes in adjacent adopted villages and underserved communities are frequently conducted by the college. Due to the epidemic, the NSS unit was unable to carry out their activities as planned.

Volunteers from campus NSS units spread awareness about the COVID-19 pandemic in the majority of the areas. Posters in public locations were used to inform people about SOPs, the use of masks, and other matters. The masks were provided to the general public by our volunteers in order to motivate and encourage people to follow the COVID policy. NSS volunteers organise community-related extension activities like environmental awareness programs, health awareness programs, road safety awareness programs, water awareness programs, vaccination awareness programs, and food and nutrition programs.

4.3 - IT Infrastructure4.3.1 - Institution frequently updates its IT facilities including Wi-Fi

The IT infrastructure at the college was improved with help from RUSA. Three digital classrooms and one virtual classroom have been constructed by the college. Interactive whiteboards, LCD projectors, and digital podiums with integrated systems, microphone systems, and speakers have been installed in smart classrooms. The campus has been outfitted with Wi-Fi. The college additionally uses the BSNL lease line internet service. The hardware in the computer science and applications departments has regularly been upgraded to meet software requirements. Nowadays, the vast majority of computers have more up-to-date setups and specs, like 4 GB of RAM and 1 TB or 500 GB hard drives. There is antivirus software, Adobe Reader, C, C++, JAVA, Photoshop, Tally ERP-9, and Java. On all platforms, internet access is available. There are four (10-port), eight (8-port), and six (24-port) routers installed on the network. Three high-speed connections with a combined bandwidth of 120 Mbps are available on campus. The tracking of attendance is possible with biometric technologies. The campus is covered by the Wi-Fi network. The institute's operations are monitored by 15 CC cameras. The systems in the language lab include audio gear.

5.3.2 - Institution facilitates students' representation and engagement in various administrative, co-curricular and extracurricular activities (student council/ students representation on various bodies as per established processes and norms)

Student representation is significant in the college's academic and administrative groups and committees, such as the IQAC, RUSA-PMU, sports and library advisory committees, endowment committee, and so on. One representative is chosen from each of the BA, B.Com., and B.Sc. programs. The representative is chosen by the class teacher based on academic merit, attendance at college, and engagement in college events. Student representatives bring the students' opinions and grievances, if any, to the attention of the appropriate authorities for debate and a mutually agreeable solution. Representatives of students provide vital informal comments on teaching, learning, the curriculum, and the internal evaluation process. Assist faculty members in making teaching aids and equipment readily available in classrooms and in program organisation. They are in charge of conveying daily information from departments to the students in their particular classrooms, such as extended program schedules, field trips, and so on. They also assist the teaching staff in the organisation of departmental seminars, quizzes, debates, and group discussions. They are actively involved in sports and games, as well as cultural events. As a result, student representatives help to ensure that students and professors are equally involved in the planning of the college's academic, co-curricular, and extracurricular activities.

5.4 - Alumni Engagement

5.4.1 - There is a registered Alumni Association that contributes significantly to the development of the institution through financial and/or other support services

The Alumni Association at SVSSC Government Degree College strives to encourage alumni and current students to build close links. Alumni help students by providing interaction, financial support, mentoring, and job placement. The Alumni Association's goal is to foster a positive relationship between the institute and its alumni.

Objectives

- Encourage and promote close ties between the school and its former students.
- To cultivate and encourage friendly relationships among all graduates who are interested in the institution's operations.
- To provide and communicate information on their alma mater's graduates, faculties, and students to their alma mater's alumni.
- To aid and support the institution's efforts to raise development money
- To provide a forum for alumni to support and improve the organisation.
- To give alumni a forum to support and advance the institution's pursuit of academic excellence.
- To aid and guide recent graduates in finding work and participating in productive activities that benefit society,
- To plan and arrange events for alumni reunions.
- To gather, publish, and circulate data about alumni and their alma mater.

Contributions and extracurricular activities

- Alumni have donated funds to assist the school's needy and meritorious students.
- Alumni participate in invited speeches, guest lectures, and sponsorships at seminars and conferences.

GOVERNANCE, LEADERSHIP AND MANAGEMENT
6.1 - Institutional Vision and Leadership
6.1.1 - The governance of the institution is reflective of and in tune with the vision and mission of the institution
Vision To develop the institution into a centre of academic excellencethrough the provision of high-quality education in order to produce globally competent human capital with socialresponsibility and high values. Mission To provide global knowledge and skill-sets to spanacademia, industry, and life To lead the students towards participating in thenation's socio-economic development with competence and character by training them to play a leading role insociety To promote and propagate innovative teaching and researchprograms and create specialized centres of learning and training. To develop collaborations with leading national andinternational agencies in areas of knowledge that enrich the students' minds and enlarge their horizons To support and strengthen faculty academically, fromadvanced research to discovery and creation of new concepts, systems, and products

To imbibe social responsibility in addition to moral, ethical, and environmental values

At SVSSC Government Degree College, all governance and management operations are fair and transparent at all times.

All stakeholders are invited to a meeting to discuss curriculum delivery and enrichment, employability skills, scholarships, value-based education, and open office practices with the principal. Almost invariably, institutional leadership results in an improved delivery system, which promotes more employment and active citizenship.

6.1.2 - The effective leadership is visible in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participative management.

The Higher Education Department allows the principal adequate autonomy to work in close coordination with IQAC, the staff council, alumni, parents, and people from industry, nongovernmental organisations, and others to realise the institution's vision and mission. The college implements decentralisation and participative management in a variety of administrative areas. Academic responsibilities are equally allocated among all members of the faculty. Committees monitor the many academic and co-curricular events that will take place throughout the academic year. On a regular basis, the college's principal interacts with both teaching and non-teaching staff. During these meetings, various issues were explored before a final conclusion was taken. Department heads keep a close eye on what's going on in their particular departments. The senior assistant is in charge of the college's office administration, which is supported by junior assistants, storekeepers, record assistants, and other Class IV employees. As a result, the decentralisation of the institution's departments and staff helps to improve the educational offer's quality. The administration's willingness to engage with teaching and non-teaching employees encourages personnel involvement in improving the efficacy and efficiency of the institutional process.

6.2 - Strategy Development and Deployment

6.2.1 - The institutional Strategic/ perspective plan is effectively deployed

The institution is working to put the long-term strategy into action. To fulfil the institution's targeted goals, the principal, internal quality assurance cell, college development committee, staff council, and numerous committees work on the projected plan and hold meetings of the relevant committees. The prospective plan is presented to the public for discussion. After deliberation and comments from many stakeholders, the IQAC and the College Development Committee approved the future plan. Improving student support services, as well as improving quality and creating a better teaching-learning environment, are all being considered for inclusion. In order to be more innovative, industry-relevant in curriculum design, and creative in academic delivery, teachers should function as facilitators and mentors rather than full-time tutors, with a heavy emphasis on successful technology integration in the teaching-learning process. Life skills will be incorporated into curriculum creation and delivery in order to emphasise multidimensional evaluation of student learning and ensure that student learning outcomes align with their employer's expectations. This will aid in the creation of research facilities as well as the promotion and development of a research culture among students and teachers.

6.2.2 - The functioning of the institutional bodies is effective and efficient as visible from policies, administrative setup, appointment and service rules, procedures, etc.

SVSSC Government Degree College, Sullurpet is governed by the Andhra Pradesh Higher Education Department, which is responsible for all of the state's colleges. The principal, on the other hand, is directly responsible to the department of higher education. The principal is in charge of ensuring that the college's plans are carried out. Through feedback from conveners and teaching and non-teaching employees, he ensures that ordinary day-to-day activities are correctly executed. The heads of departments make sure that the principal's ideas are carried out in a systematic manner. At the start of the year, various committees are formed and assigned tasks based on the institutional goals for curricular activities that benefit students' overall development. Exams, Scholarships, Purchase, Discipline, Sports, Admissions, Library, and other administrative functions are guided by committees led by senior professors to ensure that all administrative operations are carried out in accordance with the requirements of academic bodies and government rules. The government of Andhra Pradesh governs teaching and non-teaching staff appointments, promotions, and service rules.

6.3 - Faculty Empowerment Strategies
6.3.1 - The institution has effective welfare measures for teaching and non- teaching staff
The Government of Andhra Pradesh's higher education department regulates the SVSSC Government Degree College, which provides a number of statutory and non-statutory benefits to both teaching and non-teaching personnel. Employees will be issued health cards, and all corporate hospitals will offer cashless services. Employees will cover 40%, and the government will cover 60% of the total cost. In the state of Andhra Pradesh, the APGLI (Andhra Pradesh Group Life Insurance) system was formed. If the policy matures, the insurance holder gets paid the total sum assured plus a bonus up to the date of maturity. If a policyholder dies before the policy matures, the money insured and bonus earned up to the date of death are transferred to the rightful heirs. 6.3.5 - Institutions Performance Appraisal System for teaching and non- teaching staff

Every year, the teaching staff fills out performance-based appraisal system (PBAS) forms, which are submitted to the IQAC via the department head and then appraised by the principle. The PBAS assesses a teacher's performance in a range of areas, including instruction, outcomes, research papers, co-curricular and extracurricular activities, refresher or orientation courses or workshops, and so on. The teacher's participation in academic, co-curricular, and extracurricular activities was taken into account when determining the teacher's teaching performance. The determination of the weekly average number of permanent or long-term students and the evaluation of the courses taught when evaluating innovation, the teacher's distinctive contribution is taken into account. The performance evaluation takes into account participation in student welfare and community service. The teacher permitted them to record any unique successes he had made in his subject that could help him enhance his overall score during the evaluation. Based on student comments and API scores on faculty performance, the institution's president evaluates, awards, and reports them to the Commissioner of Collegiate Education. Non-teaching employees are evaluated using a performance appraisal system. The principal examines the overall performance of the non-teaching employees with the help of a senior assistant and makes confidential reports to higher authorities.

6.4 - Financial Management and Resource Mobilization

6.4.1 - Institution conducts internal and external financial audits regularly Enumerate the various internal and external financial audits carried out during the year with the mechanism for settling audit objections within a maximum of 200 words

Every year, the college's internal audit is carried out by local qualified auditors appointed by the college's principal.

Auditors verified the documents thoroughly and submitted the duly audited reports to the principal. The Regional Joint

Director of Collegiate Education, Guntur, performs an internal audit to improve the college's efficiency. Academic audit

Officials assigned by the Andhra Pradesh Commissionerate of Collegiate Education perform an academic audit every year to check the college's academic practices. An external audit was done by the Andhra Pradesh Accountant General to check the college's revenues and expenditures. Financial auditing gives reasonable assurance that the financial statements of an organisation are true and fair. The auditing of cash collections and disbursements is done. The AP Financial Code and the Treasury Code control the primary components of government financial transactions: receipts and disbursements.

Ordinary revenue from taxes, duties, fees, fines, and current income, as well as banking receipts such as loans and advance repayments, are included in the receipts. Ordinary revenue expenditures, capital expenditures, and payments of a banking character, such as loans and advances, are all examples of government disbursements.

6.4.3 - Institutional strategies for mobilization of funds and the optimal utilization of resources

SVSSC Government Degree College, Sullurpet, receives an annual maintenance grant from the Andhra Pradesh government, which covers salaries, retirement benefits, and non-salary expenses. Under UGC sections 2(f) and 12(B), the institution has been recognised and is eligible for funding for a variety of UGC-sponsored programs. The UGC and RUSA are two sources of funding for the college. For eligible infrastructural development, the college's IQAC submits proposals and DPRs to the UGC and RUSA. In partnership with the staff council, the College Planning and Development Committee (CPDC) develops strategies for developmental activities and financial mobilisation. The council passes a resolution asking the principal to follow the proper procedures for developing project budget estimates and identifying the executive agency in charge of this task. The relevant committee meets to consider the modalities and procedures for going forward with the matter after receiving estimates or quotations from the executive agency for the acquisition of materials and equipment. Following the meeting, proposals for the aforementioned work will be forwarded to higher authorities for financing approval.

6.5 - Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 - Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) has contributed significantly for institutionalizing the quality assurance strategies and processes

The IQAC meets at the start of each academic year to review all topics pertaining to the curriculum, teaching methodologies, internal evaluation methodologies, and the creation of the institutional annual academic plan in order to raise the overall quality of the institution. In accordance with the NEP, IQAC encourages students to take part in two-month community service projects as well as the two- and six-month internships that are required. All of the stakeholders' feedback was compiled, analysed, and then forwarded to the principal for further consideration.

Attending orientations for teacher learning and research, refresher courses, workshops, seminars, and conferences is encouraged and supported for faculty members. ICT integration into faculty members' regular teaching routines is encouraged by IQAC. IQAC plans field trips, tours, guest lectures, certificate programs, and add-on programs in association with department heads. For students who are struggling academically, IQAC offers both projects and remedial coaching programs. Additionally, IQAC examines and keeps track of all departments' internal evaluation procedures. With document preparation, IQAC assists NCC, NSS, Physical Education, Women's Empowerment Cell, Career Guidance & Placement Cell, and other supporting wings. Additionally, IQAC submits the required paperwork to obtain ISO certifications for its practices in education, energy conservation, and environmental protection.

7.1.8 - Describe the Institutional efforts/initiatives in providing an inclusive environment i.e., tolerance and harmony towards cultural, regional, linguistic, communal socioeconomic and other diversities (within 200 words).

Through the celebration of sports and cultural events held within the college, the organisation encourages an inclusive environment for everyone with tolerance and peace towards cultural, regional, linguistic, community, socioeconomic, and other diversities. Students from various cultural backgrounds and members of our college staff participate actively in this campaign to advance harmony, tolerance, and integrity. Numerous student organisations have been established to support and advance the ideas of various cultures. The Cultural Fest is a yearly occasion, and the New Year's celebration strengthens the sense of community by including entertaining games. To obtain the blessings of the Almighty, individual departments conduct Saraswathi puja and Ayudha puja in their own laboratories. To promote tolerance, competitions are held in honour of international memorial days such as Yoga Day, Women's Day, Teachers' Day, Science Day, Environmental Day, and others. Community and interfaith harmony have always been the main focus of the cultural curriculum for students. Also encouraged to connect with one another while preserving their cultural, communal, social, and linguistic values are the rural residents who live close to the institute. Thus, the college's objective is fulfilled by promoting tolerance, national integrity, and the inculcation of moral principles.

7.1.9 - Sensitization of students and employees of the Institution to the constitutional obligations: values, rights, duties and responsibilities of citizens

In addition to providing its students with a strong academic foundation, the institute takes pride in working to help them become better citizens of the country. The college promotes a sense of community among its students through a variety of practices and programs, in addition to offering professional legal education. The Institute has always run a wide range of programs to increase awareness of various national identities and symbols. In an effort to promote constitutional principles,

The Institute celebrates Independence Day, Republic Day, Constitution Day, and Voter's Day with great fanfare. The institute supported a variety of extracurricular and academic initiatives to advance the fundamental responsibilities and rights of Indian citizens. Students participate in a variety of activities through club events, such as poster presentations, essay writing competitions, and other occasions that regularly draw a sizable student body and deepen students' understanding of various facets of Indian citizenship. Value education must be incorporated into the curriculum in order to help students become responsible citizens. Justice, liberty, equality, and fraternity are just a few of the social, familial, and individual ideals that are covered in the Value Education curriculum. All of these ideals are reflected in the Constitution.

7.2 - Best Practices

7.2.1 - Describe two best practices successfully implemented by the Institution as per NAAC format provided in the Manual.

1. Title of the Practice: Rain Water Harvesting

2. Objectives of the Practice: Rainwater collected from rooftop run-offs will be used to recharge

3. The context: There is a huge opportunity to capture rainwater to fulfil water scarcity while avoiding the degradation of normal groundwater levels.

4. The Practice: When rainwater and runoff water are strategically stored, they can protect the land from soil erosion and flooding while also recharging aquifers and raising groundwater levels.

5. Evidence of Success: Roof runoff water is collected and stored in wells via network lines.

6. Problems encountered and resources required: Rainwater harvesting systems must be maintained on a regular basis to avoid infestations from rodents, mosquitoes, algae growth, insects, and lizards.

B.

1. Title of the Practice Green Campus Initiatives.

2. Objectives of the Practice: To raise environmental awareness among students, faculty, and the general public.

3. The context: To develop the necessary skills to deal with environmental issues and challenges.

4. The Practice: On the college campus, three bore-well recharge pits are being constructed to collect rainwater.

5. Evidence of the success: Two ISO certificates for the academic year have been received.

6. Problems encountered and resources required: The Green Campus initiative is an expensive practice.

7.3 - Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 - Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust within 200 words

Electronic governance, also known as e-governance, is the use of information and communication technology (ICT) to deliver services, exchange information, carry out communication transactions, and integrate various stand-alone systems between the administration and other key college stakeholders, including students, faculty, staff, and alumni. The primary objectives of Sri V.S. Sivalingam Chettiar Government Degree College's e-governance policy are operational efficiency, promoting transparency and accountability in transactions, fostering effective stakeholder communication, encouraging user teamwork and collaboration, facilitating information access, adhering to the rules and regulations of governmental nodal agencies, and increasing institutional visibility to the outside world. The elements of e-governance include general administration, submitting concerns to the commissioner of collegiate education, the admission process for students, staff transfers, keeping track of various records, finances, such as staff salaries, arrears, student scholarships, paying tuition fees, staff and student attendance, exam-related activities, awarding various certificates to the students, library activities, etc. To fully utilize the college's e-governance system's capabilities, it is anticipated that all stakeholders will utilize it to the fullest extent possible.
